DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 08/21/2002 has been entered.

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the reflective surface (claims 30 and 39) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2871

3. Claim 32 recites the limitation "diffuse reflection" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

4. Claims 31-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 31 and 39, it is confusing and unclear where a reflective surface is. According to claims 32 and 40, the reflective surface provides diffuse reflection as shown in figure 11. Therefore, it is assumed that Applicants tend to claim an upper portion (402) including a diffuse reflection (210).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 31-32 and 39-40, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Selker, US Patent No. 5,777,704.

The above claims are anticipated by Selker's figure 2 which disclose a display device comprising:

Art Unit: 2871

- a transmissive display panel (209) mounted in a first location including a front and rear surface (according to a liquid crystal display device);
- a reflective surface (203) for directing ambient light entering the housing through a second location through the second surface of the display panel and providing a diffuse reflector (205); wherein ambient light is diffused to the rear surface of the transmissive display panel;
- hinges for attaching (210, 217, 220) the transmissive display panel and the reflective surface/diffuse reflector.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 33-38 and 41-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Selker, US Patent No. 5,777,704.

Regarding the above claims, Selker discloses the claimed invention as described above except for a pivotal located at a bottom edge or top edge of the display panel. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time at the invention was made to modify pivotal (e.g., hinge) coupling between the display panel and the reflective surface/diffuse reflector at a bottom/top edge of the display panel, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70.

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claims 28 and 30-46 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 38-49 of copending

Art Unit: 2871

Application No. 09/299,522. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both this application and co-pending application disclose the same transmissive display device.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
